WONDER IN A NEW LIGHT

There are few places where winter feels more at home than Vienna. Beneath festive lights and Baroque façades, age-old traditions and everyday rituals bring the city quietly to life.

As winter settles over Vienna, the city takes on a distinctly atmospheric rhythm. Café windows glow against the early evening sky, festive lights illuminate centuries-old façades, and the cobbled streets of the Old Town invite unhurried exploration. It is a season when familiar landmarks feel newly discovered.

At Rosewood Vienna, this enduring character is never far away. From cherished local traditions to quietly elegant moments woven throughout the historic city centre, guests are invited to experience Vienna at its warmest, most intimate and most captivating time of year.
