THE CULTIVATED HILLSIDE ESTATE

CALISTOGA

ROSEWOOD

Nestled along Calistoga's sun-dappled ridgeline is a cultivated hillside estate, rooted in terroir and togetherness. Here, land is both backdrop and guide, inviting you to explore and return to what matters.

Contemporary design meets the essence of integrative living, carrying forward the legacy of renowned architect Ed Tuttle. Understated forms follow the lay of the land, with seamlessly refined interiors that echo pith and heartwood, framed by a verdant playground of garden, forest and vine.

Here, dining draws on the region's growers, ingredients and seasonal harvests, while Asaya Spa offers restorative rituals inspired by the area's natural rhythms. Estate walks, private vineyard access and craft-led experiences invite guests to discover Calistoga at their own pace.

WELLNESS

Presence, reimagined. Natural landscape and quiet trails wind through Calistoga's forested ridgeline, inviting stillness or movement, at the pace of your choice. Garden, forest and vine set the season's rhythm for rest — and each return deepens the relationship with this land.

EXPERIENCES

A natural playground where garden, forest and vine are a canvas for curiosity and connection. Here, Calistoga is both backdrop and guide, a host welcoming you to wonder.

DINING

Nourishment flows from soil to soul. Grapes ripen along the ridgeline, heirloom vegetables at the height of season, wildflower honey gathered nearby. Time tableside is a taste of Calistoga.
